WHAT'S IN A NAME

Bradley County Industrial Development Corporation voted at the June board meeting to change the corporation's name. The necessary work has begun to make this name change possible.

The BCIDC board agreed that by changing the name to Bradley County Economic Development Corporation (BCEDC) it would better reflect their involvement in all economic development and not just industrial development in Bradley County.

Bradley County Economic Development Corporation (BEDC) will continue to enhance and sustain the economic climate of Bradley County as stated in their Mission Statement.
